The new Tennessee law, requiring all railroad companies to furnish separate coaches for white and colored people, has gone into effect and the railroads had prepared for the change.

It is stated that a depot policeman will be put on duty at every station of the Norfolk and Western railroad. This would doubtless be a profitable investment on the part of the company.

Messrs. Foote & Johnson will have a full line of their vehicles on our streets Tuesday next—court day. Persons in need of anything in this line should take advantage of this opportunity to supply themselves.

460 teachers are enrolled for the Normal Institute at Bedford City, and they are still coming at the rate of fifteen to twenty a day. Eighty-two of the one hundred county superintendents have signified their intention of attending.

The usual bulletin, announcing the early completion of the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago railroad as far as St. Paul, is again out. However the road will doubtless be built one day if the management has not involved it in hopeless litigation.

Superintendent Robert Fleming, of the Virginia Gas Coal Co., was in town Monday from Doran and reports that active mining operations will be resumed at the Coal Creek mines at once. Good miners applying can get work and also a responsible party can have charge of the boarding house.

The shipment of fine fat lambs for the mutton market has begun from Tazewell, and we are destined to gain the same reputation in this line that we had in the palmy days of the beef cattle era. In fact Tazewell always comes to the front with the best, whether it is wanted in the animal, vegetable or mineral line.

Bristol gives $50,000 for the Southwest Virginia Female Institute, Baptist, and gets it moved from Glade Spring. She gives King College, Presbyterian, a new home. These two and also Sullins College, Methodist, will have a $100,000 equipment each. She will also take the Catholic convent from Abingdon and enrich it.

At a meeting of Tazewell Lodge, No. 62, A. F. & A. M., the following officers were elected to serve one year: T. R. Peery, W. M.; J. S. Bottimore, S. W.; W. G. Young, J. W.; J. O'Keefe, Treasurer; R. Izard, Secretary; J. T. Cooley, S. D.; G. W. Sparks, J. D.; J. P. Kelly, Chaplain; Jno. Peery, G. W. Doak, Stewards; G. L. McClintock, Tiler.

Rev. M. W. Doggett, the honored pastor of the Presbyterian church, has received, we understand, a call to a charge in Georgia, which he will accept. During his stay here he has proved himself an ideal pastor, and to find another man of as good judgment, equipoise and energy, under any and all circumstances, will require careful selection with a modicum of luck.

Several towns in Virginia whose hopes were largely built on the help of large capitalists who have found themselves so tightly pressed by the money squeeze as to be unable to make good their promises, have shown a surprising amount of vitality and perseverance. Although the carrying out of some plans will be somewhat delayed, there will be no stoppage and the immediate consultation by the respective directories as to the best plan to adopt to maintain confidence, has led to the adoption of conservative measures, which will be sure to work the best possible results.—Va. Manufacturer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman arrived after their wedding yesterday and were given a royal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Chapman last evening. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. De Vault, at Austin Springs, Tenn. Miss Lavalette Higginbotham, that was, is one of the most admired ladies of the county.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The reported illness of John D. Rockefeller has caused interest to be taken as to the amount of his fortune. Mr. Rockefeller's family deny that the modern Crassus is dangerously ill, but his friends are solicitous just the same. His sickness has renewed the speculations as to his immense wealth. An old Standard Oil man and life long friend, who is on the inside of affairs, says Rockefeller is by all odds the richest man in America, a conservative estimate of his money being $129,000,000, and that he is wealthier than any of the Vanderbilts.

In addition to what was said of the best part of the Seminary program, last week, it may be added that the music, the recitations, the debate and the plays by the little Nymphs were matchless. The operetta—Fairy Queen—with Vivian Gillespie as queen and Maggie Gillespie, Lucy Ferguson, Allie Millard, Mollie Boone, May Hankins and Marie Hargrave as fairies, was faultless. In the play, "Fashionable Life in Washington," written specially for the Nymphs, Grandma, from Sandy, in her representation of backwoods character, was a star. "Come to the Woods" was so sweetly sung by Miss Sallie Surface that a neighbor wished she was an older lady. The skilled hand directing these presentations and the drilling for them was that of the principal, Mrs. Gillespie, who is herself a fine elocutionist. Much of the drilling of the older reciters was also done by Mrs. Gillespie.

TAZEWELL COLLEGE.

This is the name of the institution for males proposed to be established at this place immediately. The projectors of the scheme are Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, of Norfolk, Rev. A. A. Ferguson and Dr. R. B. Gillespie, of Tazewell. Arrangements have been made to purchase land from the Tazewell C. H. Improvement Co. the site to be on the high point known as Hotel Park. It is expected to have sufficient buildings for a beginning ready by September next. The land and first buildings are to cost not less than $7,000. Within a few hours $1,600 had been subscribed by citizens on Main street, and the fund is being constantly added to. The Clinch Valley needs a male academy, and needs it just at this point for obvious reasons. That this undertaking will be a success we have the utmost confidence, and advise and urge a general interest on the part of the public.

TAZEWELL FAIR.

The work of preparation for the biggest fair yet has already begun. The late reorganization of the Society was to that end. The catalogue of premiums is to be a book twice as large as heretofore, and one to be preserved. Arrangements for its publication have just been made and eleven hundred copies ordered for distribution. This number will be increased to as many thousands as advertisers may order at a nominal price. This Fair Catalogue is conceded to be one of the best mediums for permanent advertising published, and in fact the only one of its kind in the section. That there may be a complete presentation of the various lines of local business, a business index in fact, the price of advertising space has been reduced, and will be uniform, no matter how many copies are ordered. Advertisements to appear in the catalogue should be sent to the CLINCH VALLEY NEWS of free and orders for extra copies should be sent at once as a second edition will not be published.
